“Glen was a longtime friend. Always enjoyed his dry sense of humor. My favorite story that always produces a laugh is when he, Peggy, Frank and I were playing cards and he suddenly slapped Peggy on the forehead, shocking all of us, but most of all Peggy. She jumped up ready for a fight, upsetting the card table and cards going asunder and Glen nonchalantly said he was slapping a mosquito. I know that story has been shared and remembered many times over the years and I still smile when I remember it. Rest in Peace Glen. Prayers for my dear friend Peggy and all the family.
