“ Let nothing disturb thee; let nothing dismay thee; all things pass; God never changes; patience attains all that it strives for. He who has God finds he lacks nothing: God alone suffices.-----St. Teresa of Avila.

“ Jean Ann and I went to West School together and on to Junior High and to graduate from Chickasha High School in 1954. Of all the memories that remain are sometimes strange until you look at someone's whole life. Jean Ann was the first person to dye her eyelashes . . .and how many other firsts did she do. She will be sorely missed but obviously has been called home for a purpose.

“ I know no other person who is more kind, genuine and playfully ornery than Aunt Jean Ann. She gave me my first 'wet willy', and remains a model of stability, effortless love and respect that indelibly impacted the lives of all who were fortunate to know her.
