

Standley Doyle Embry

January 22, 1950 - April 16, 2026

Standley Doyle Embry, age 76, passed away April 16, 2026, in Norman, Oklahoma. He was born January 22, 1950, in Denton, Texas, to Doyle and Inez (Mobley) Embry.

Standley resided in Norman, Oklahoma. He lived in Oklahoma for the first 40 years of his life, then moved to Tennessee, where he spent 30 years before returning to Oklahoma in 2019. He was a devout Baptist.

Standley was a simple man who enjoyed life's simple pleasures. He loved sitting on the porch smoking and dancing with pretty women. He was very talented—a true jack of all trades—and was always up for an adventure.

Standley enjoyed watching westerns and wrestling, especially John Wayne movies. Throughout his life he held many jobs, and he was especially proud of his time working at Dollywood.

Although Stanley had no children of his own, he poured his love into his many nieces and nephews, great-nieces and nephews, and even his great-great-nieces and nephews. He loved each and every one of them as if they were his own. He loved so many so well that there isn't enough room to list them all.

Standley is survived by one sister, Patricia Nichols; many beloved nieces and nephews and their families; his cousins; and a host of friends.

Standley was preceded in death by his parents, Doyle and Inez Embry; his brothers, Kenneth Embry, Henry Embry, and Raymond Mosley; and his sisters, Joyce Embry and Loretta Robertson.
